

A thank you to the community from the CAC President

Tuesday, April 15, will be my last day as President of the Board of the Center for Arabic Culture. I have tremendously enjoyed my time as President of this wonderful organization. I have had the good fortune of meeting so many people which made my work even more interesting: from the students and parents at the CAC Sunday School, to meeting those who attend our programs, to my work with the interns from U Mass Boston, BU and others, as well as my work with other community organizers on a local and national level. I wanted to thank you all personally for all that you have done for the organization. I care deeply about the CAC, and I hope that with the community's support this great institution will be able to continue the work that has been done throughout the years. I believe that the CAC is a much-needed institution in the New England area, and I am proud of the strides that we have made.

Again, thank you for your support throughout the past few years. The CAC could not exist without the support of you, our community! Please continue to support our community organization in any way that you can from becoming a member, to attending one of our events, to sending in a donation.

I hope to see everyone at the May 10 Spring Fling for what promises to be a fun filled day for the entire family! Buy your tickets today!

Sincerely,

Gheed Amara Itani
CAC President
